

Kyung-Ja HA

*Director, Research Center for Climate Sciences, Pusan National University, Korea
Vice Chair, National Committee of Future Earth in Korea, the Korean Academy of Science and Technology*

Prof. Kyung-Ja Ha received Ph. D from Yonsei University in 1992. Her main fields of study are monsoon climate, climate dynamics and global hydroclimate change. She is currently a professor of atmospheric sciences department from 1994 in Pusan National University and the director of Research Center of Climate Sciences (RCCS) since 2014. She is also principal investigator for Global Research Laboratory project for Global Monsoon Climate Change. She served as an auditor (2005-2010) and board member (2011-2014) for APEC Climate Center. She has been a fellow of the Korean Academy of Science and Technology and is currently vice chair for National Committee of Future earth in Korea.